

Did you know you can practice REDUCE-REUSE-RECYCLE at the Brazos Valley Farmers' Market?

Wondering what to do with those egg cartons and jelly jars once they're empty? Recycle them by returning them to the market. You'd be amazed what our many vendors can reuse: egg cartons, glass jars (mason/ball for canners, mayo/other glass jars for honey), plastic bags, rubber bands, twine, plastic berry boxes, fabric remnants, etc . It saves money for the vendor, who can pass that savings on to you.

And what could be better than arriving at the local farmers' market prepared to do your share to save the Earth and go home with the freshest, tastiest produce in town. Visit the Brazos Valley Farmers' Market where each and every one of us makes a difference!

COME CHECK US OUT:

- Saturdays from 8:00 AM – 12:00 PM (year-round) in Bryan at the corner of William J. Bryan Pkwy and Texas Ave (Health Dept parking lot)
- Mondays from 4:00 PM – 7:00 PM (May through August) in the Village Foods Shopping Center (formerly Appletree) on the corner of 29th Street and Briarcrest in Bryan
- Wednesdays from 4:00 PM – 7:00 PM (April through August) in College Station's Central Park, near the main pavilion

FOR MORE INFORMATION:

Visit us on the web: <http://www.brazosvalleyfarmersmarket.com>
Email us: info@brazosvalleyfarmersmarket.com

